Le Wednesday 17 September 2008 20:21:50 Pascal EYNARD, vous avez écrit :

Bonsoir

Sur la copie d'écran de Wine / File, je vois que xrelais est installé sur C, qui semble etre votre disque windows.

( présence de programm files )

Est ce exact ?

et donc : Pour que wine fonctionne, il faut une partition windows ? et donc un dual boot ?

Merci

M EYNARD

Non, en fait WINE créé un disque virtuel qui s'appelle C dans le fichier caché .wine situé dans le dossier utilisateur et dans lequel il écrit toutes ses informations.

Wine reconnais le disque windows sous la partition G

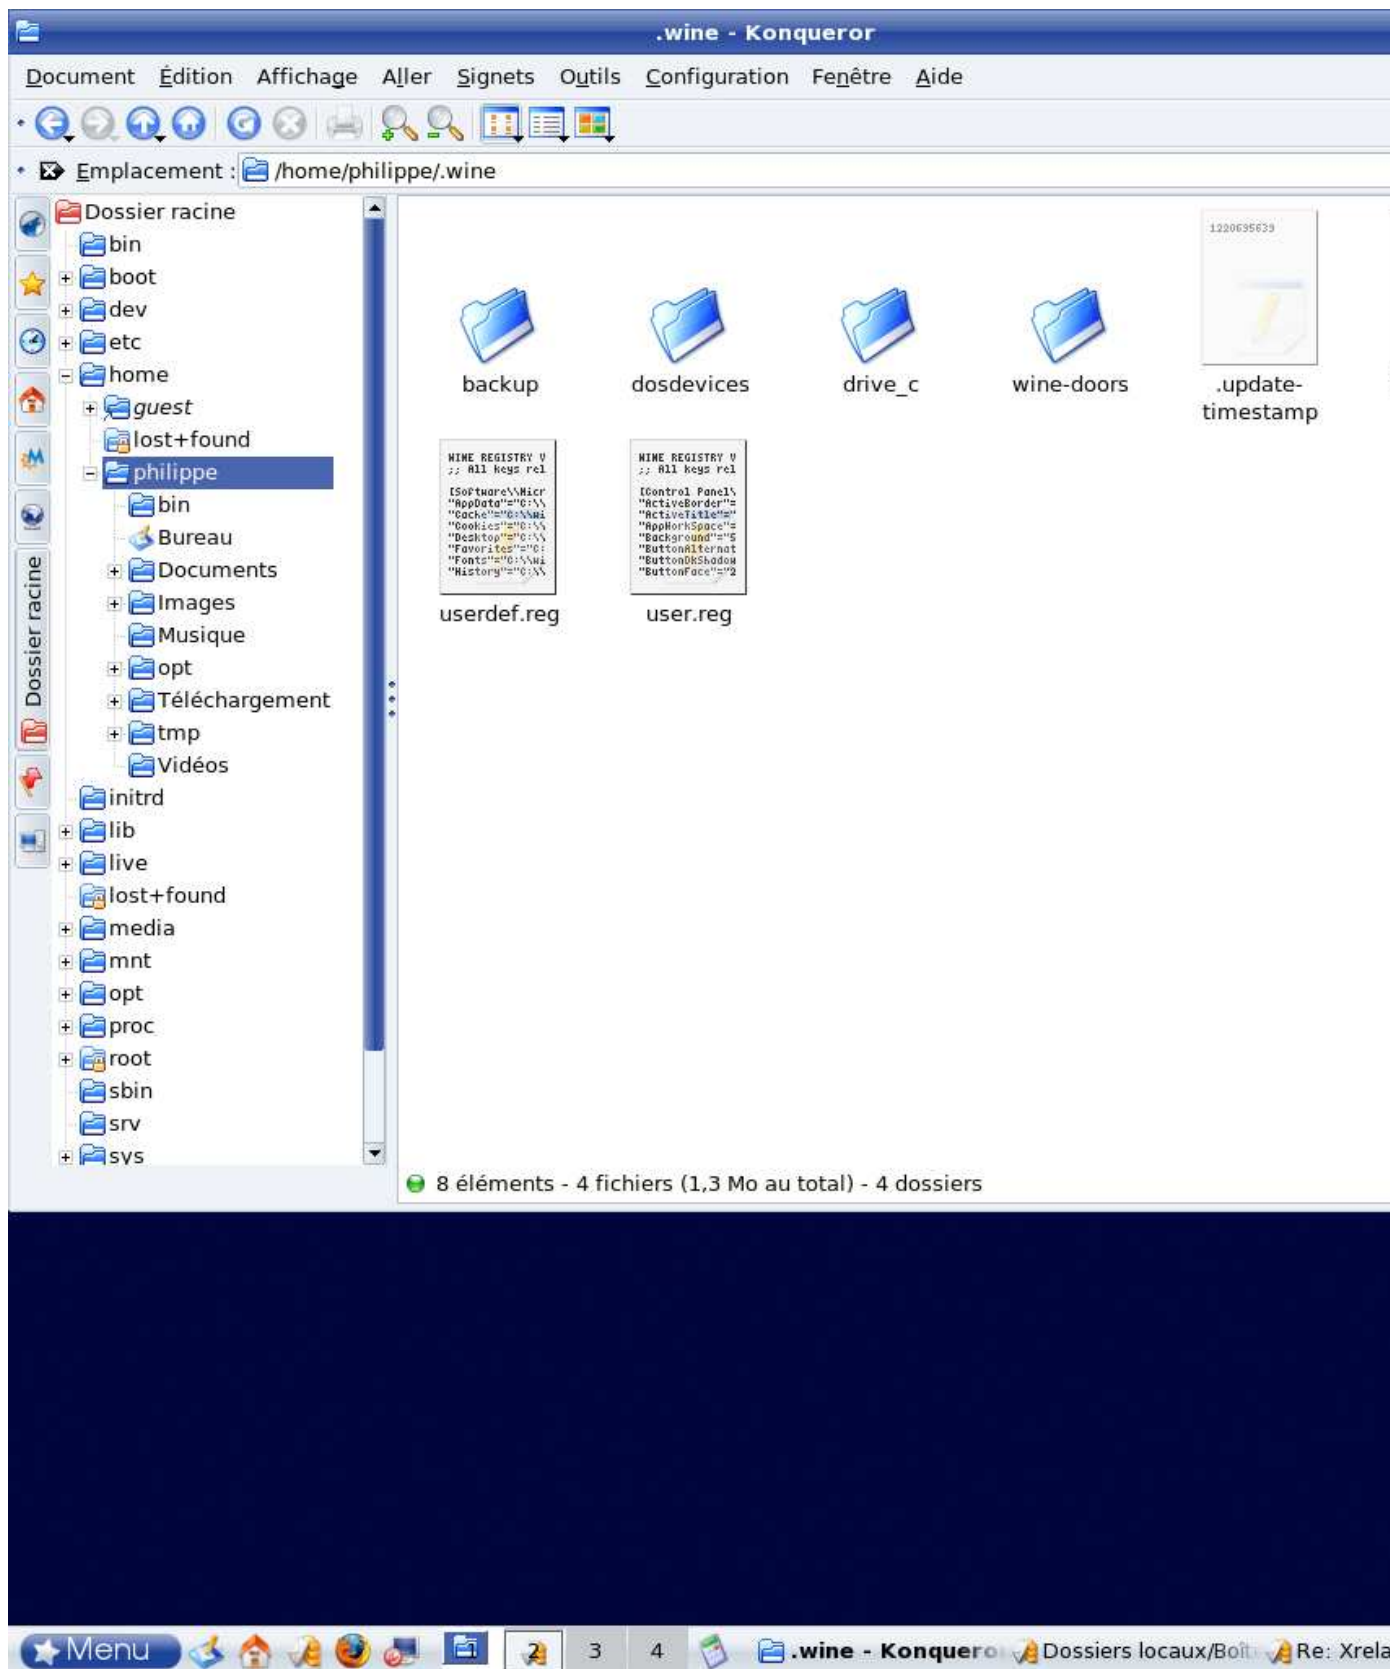

Avec l'ancienne version de Mandriva 2008, même en dual boot je n'arrivais pas à initialiser wine et pourtant la configuration de l'ordinateur n'a pas changé. La nouvelle version autorise wine. Ne me demandez pas pourquoi, je n'en sais strictement rien. Je ne suis qu'un utilisateur basique qui teste, tente et essaye tout ce que je peux sous Linux. Je crois qu'il devait manquer le WINE.DOORS.

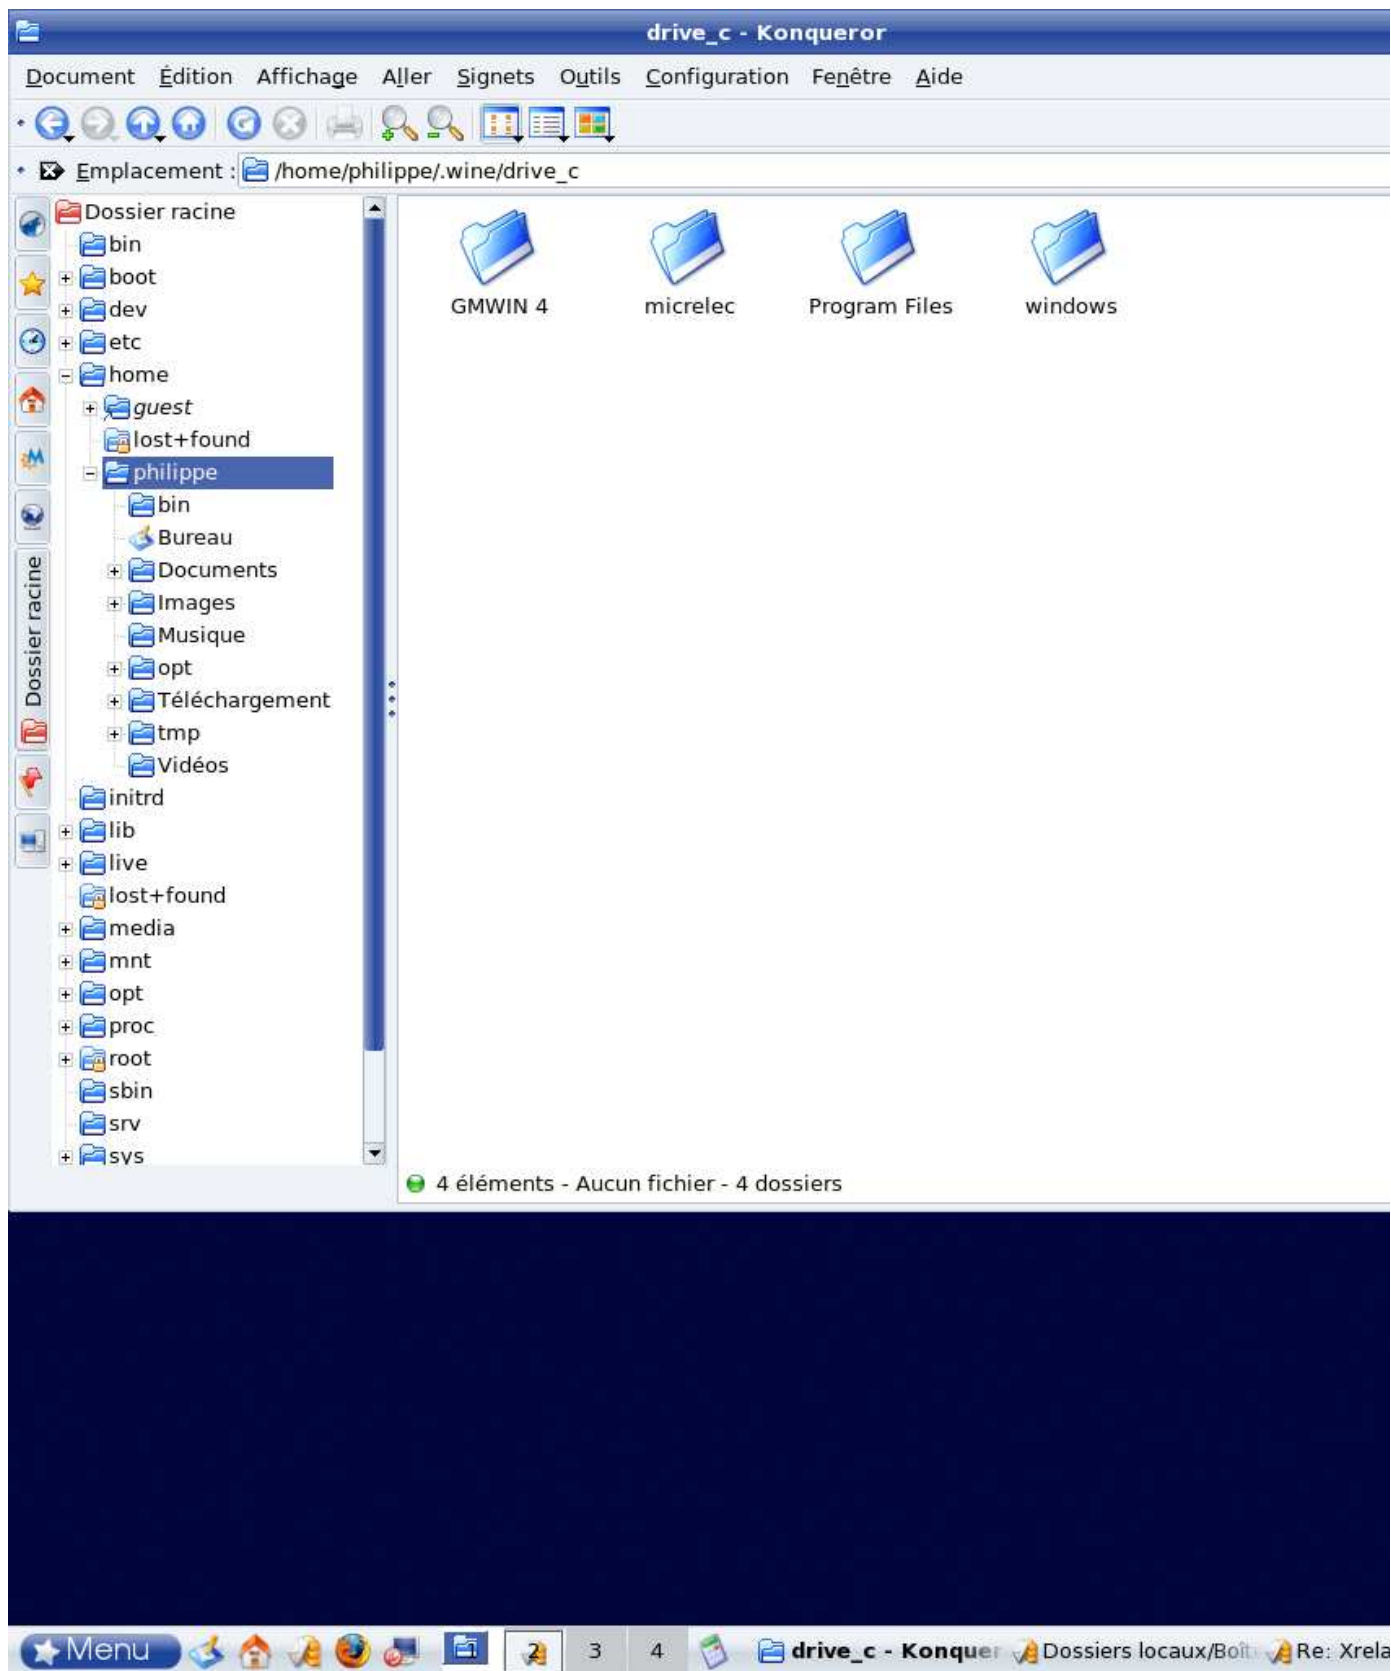

Ci joint des copies d'écrans et fichiers de configuration de WINE.

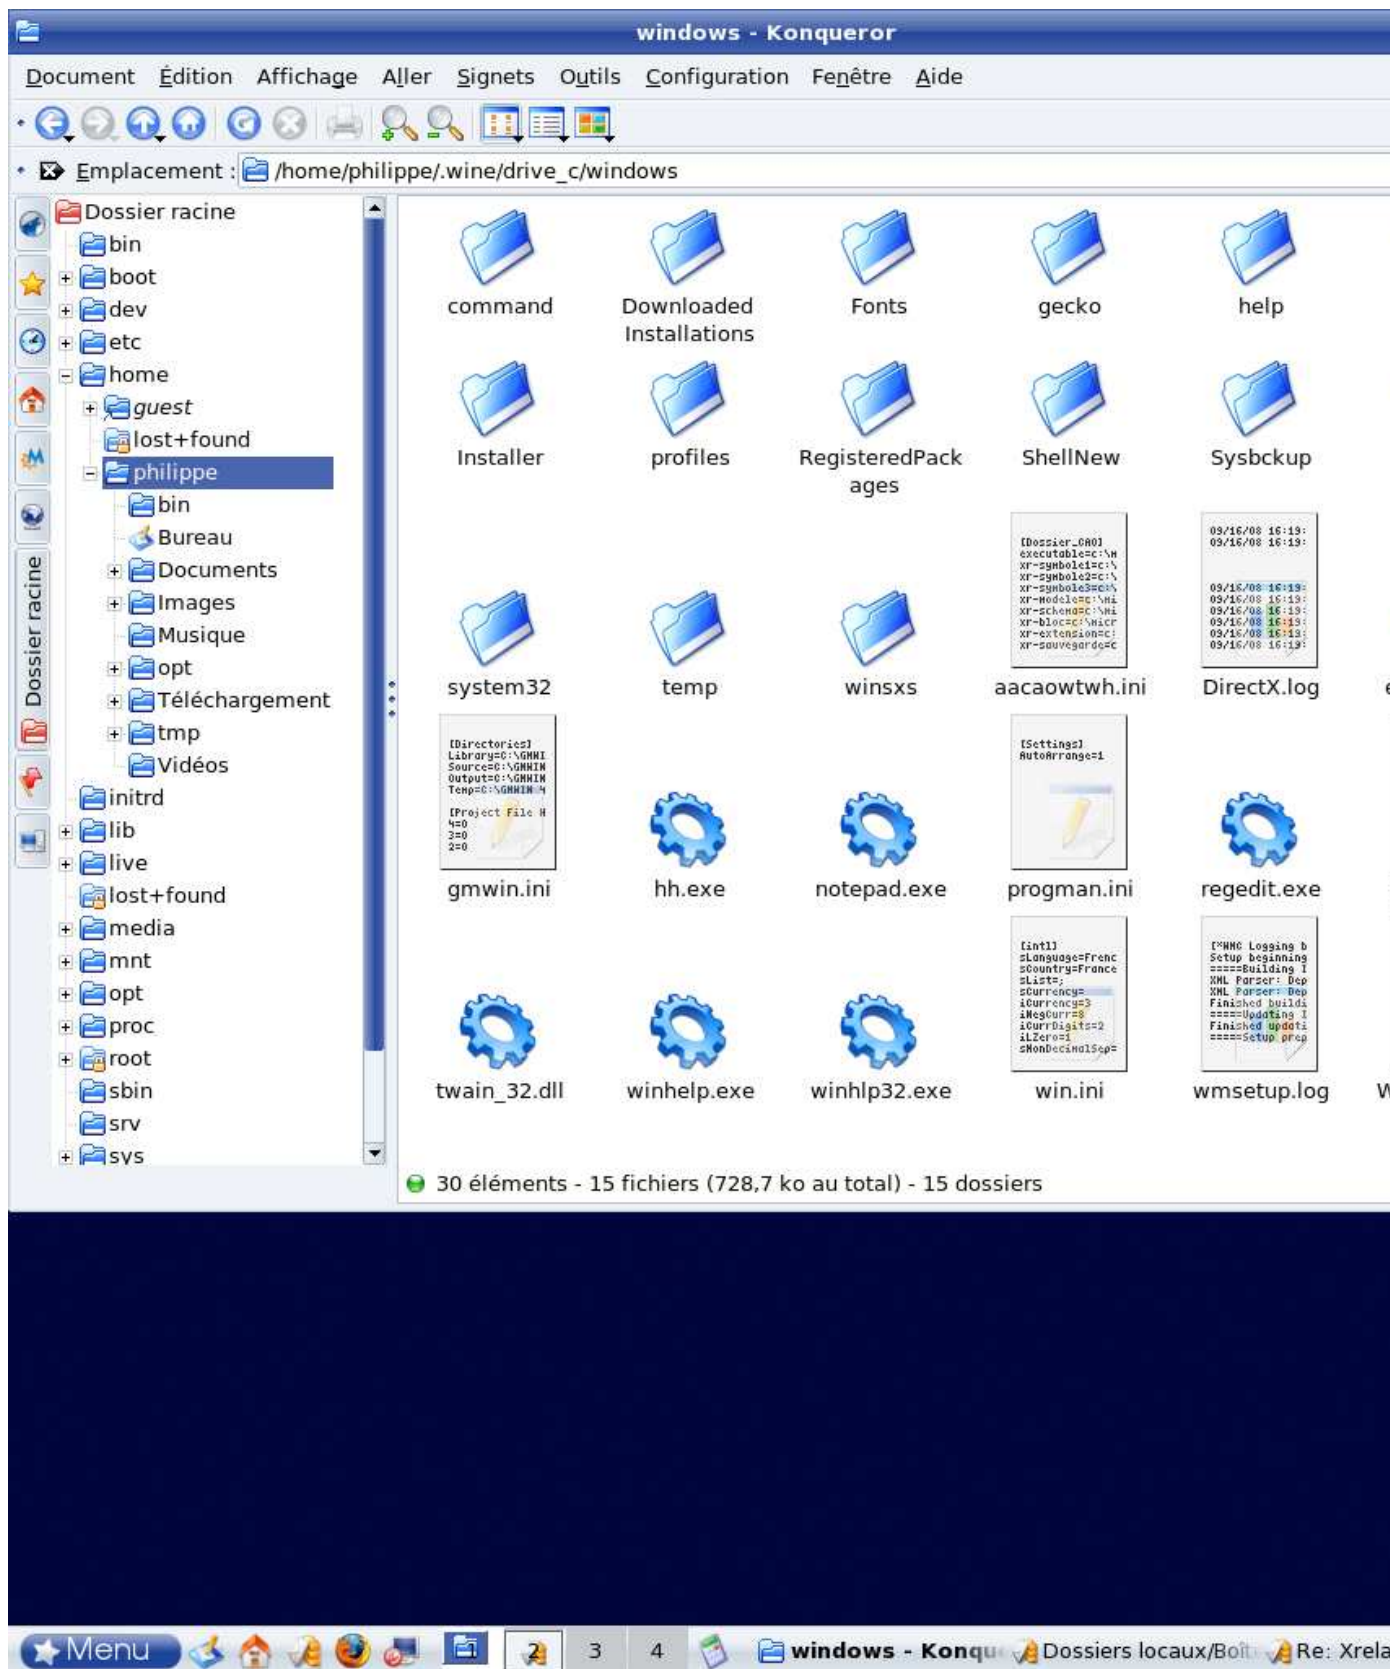

En espérant que cela puisse vous aider.

Philippe HUGUET
